

HARVARD LIBRARIES ONLINE

STARTING POINTS

Harvard Libraries

The University's gateway to library resources and services as well as general information about each of the Harvard libraries—including locations, hours, and links to individual library web sites.

<http://lib.harvard.edu>

HOLLIS

Harvard's most comprehensive union catalog, the HOLLIS Catalog contains entries for more than 15 million books, journals, manuscripts, government documents, maps, microforms, music scores, sound recordings, visual materials, and data files.

<http://hollis.harvard.edu>

Google Scholar

Search scholarly literature across many disciplines, including theses, abstracts, articles, and the full text of books.

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:gscholar>

Google Books

Books digitized and indexed by Google.

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:googlebk>
Search results from both Google Scholar and Google Books will include "Find it @ Harvard" links for Harvard users.

Research Guides

Harvard librarians have compiled subject-based research guides and other research aids.

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eother:resguides>

hcl.harvard.edu:

A Research Tool for Library Users

The hub for collections and services of Harvard College Library.

<http://hcl.harvard.edu>

A SELECTION OF WEB-ACCESSIBLE COLLECTIONS

<http://digitalcollections.harvard.edu>

Chinese Rubbings

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:chinrubc>

The Chinese Rubbings Collection includes 1,945 rubbings made from ancient stone stelae, tomb tablets, and Buddhist and Daoist scriptures on stelae and rocks in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Fine Arts Library—Harvard College Library

Daguerreotypes at Harvard

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:daguerre>

Harvard's 3,500 daguerreotypes are gathered in this online collection. Images include some of the earliest photographs of the moon, views of the first use of ether, rare portraits of African-born slaves, and Harvard's earliest photographic class albums.

Weissman Preservation Center—Harvard University Library

Digital Scores and Libretti

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:digiscor>

First and early editions and manuscripts of works by J. S. Bach (and family), Mozart, Schubert, and others; multiple versions of 19th-century operas; seminal modernist works; and music of the Second Viennese School.

Eda Kuhn Loeb Music Library—Harvard College Library

Expeditions and Discoveries

<http://ocp.hul.harvard.edu/expeditions>

The collection includes maps, photographs, and published materials, as well as field notes, letters, and a unique range of manuscript materials on selected expeditions between 1626 and 1953.

Open Collections Program—Harvard University Library

Jacques Burkhardt Collection

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:mczburkc>

The Jacques Burkhardt Collection delivers 976 scientific drawings (including 518 watercolor and/or pencil drawings) of fishes and miscellaneous vertebrates and invertebrates. Also includes field notes, correspondence, diaries, photographs, and specimen records from Louis Agassiz's 15-month Brazil expedition in 1865–66.

Ernst Mayr Library—Museum of Comparative Zoology

A SELECTION OF WEB-ACCESSIBLE COLLECTIONS

Digital Maps

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:harvmapc>

Over 1,000 maps and atlases, many georeferenced for use in GIS. Includes maps of New England towns; London; China; pictorial maps by Ernest Dudley Chase; fire-insurance and real-property atlases; and maps from the Revolutionary War.

Harvard Map Collection—Harvard College Library

Holocaust Rescue and Relief

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eother:uuscrecs>

With digitization still under way, the records of the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee, 1939–67, document UUSC's aid to hundreds of persons displaced by World War II. The complete collection will bring over 200,000 pages and photographs to the web.

Andover-Harvard Theological Library—Harvard Divinity School

Islamic Heritage Project

<http://ocp.hul.harvard.edu/ihp>

Hundreds of Islamic manuscripts, maps, and published texts—totaling over 145,000 pages—from Harvard's library and museum collections. Search or browse materials that date from the 13th to the 20th centuries CE and represent many regions, languages, and subjects.

Open Collections Program—Harvard University Library

The Human Factor

<http://www.library.hbs.edu/hc/hf>

More than 2,100 photographs—collected at Harvard Business School during the 1930s—illustrating plants, equipment, techniques, processes, and people at work in a wide variety of industries from automobile manufacturing to paper mills.

Baker Library Historical Collections—Harvard Business School

Studies in Scarlet

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:sscarlet>

Page images of more than 450 trial narratives printed in the United States or the United Kingdom from 1815 until 1914. The narratives addressing marriage and sexuality include trials for murder, rape, divorce, domestic violence, adultery, bigamy, breach of promise to marry, and the custody of children.

Harvard Law School Library

SERVICES AND TOOLS

Citation Linker

When you have a reference to a journal article, use this tool to help you locate the full text online, when available.

<http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:hul.eresource:citelink>

DASH—Digital Access to Scholarship at Harvard

A central, open-access repository for the scholarly output of faculty and the broader research community at Harvard.

<http://dash.harvard.edu>

E-Research @ Harvard Libraries

Identify, locate, and connect to Harvard's growing collection of e-resources, including e-journals and e-books. Search multiple resources at one time and save sets of e-resources, e-journals, and citations.

<http://eresearch.lib.harvard.edu>

Finding Materials at Harvard

If you don't find the library materials you are looking for in this brief guide, ask a librarian.

http://lib.harvard.edu/catalogs/finding\_materials.html

Harvard Geospatial Library

A catalog and repository of worldwide and regional geographic data layers, scanned historic maps, and associated descriptive information that can be searched, mapped, and downloaded for use with Geographic Information System (GIS) software.

<http://hgl.harvard.edu>

LibX

A browser extension that provides instant access to HOLLIS (or HOLLIS Classic), Citation Linker, and Harvard e-resources and e-journals from your Firefox or Internet Explorer toolbar. LibX also automatically links ISSNs, PubMed IDs, and DOIs to Harvard's licensed e-journals.

<http://lib.harvard.edu/tools/libx.html>

OASIS—Online Archival Search Information System

An online service that provides access to a growing number of finding aids for archival and manuscript collections at Harvard.

<http://oasis.harvard.edu>

VIA—Visual Information Access

A union catalog of visual resources at Harvard, focusing on artistic and cultural materials. Many VIA records include links to digital images.

<http://via.harvard.edu>

WAX—Web Archive Collection Service

An online service that provides access to collections of archived web sites that Harvard curators have selected for capture, preservation storage and display.

<http://wax.lib.harvard.edu>